RE:	Policy Proposal — National Experiential Civic Education Framework (NECEF)

Message:

I am a citizen from Ringgold, Georgia transmitting a formal policy proposal for review by the President's domestic policy team: the National Experiential Civic Education Framework (NECEF).

NECEF proposes embedding structured, hands-on civic programs in schools nationwide — community service, emergency preparedness, infrastructure stewardship, and leadership development — at a cost of $57–$87 per student annually. The framework builds entirely on existing federal infrastructure (AmeriCorps, FEMA, Title IV) with no new bureaucracy and full state and local control over program content.

This is a bipartisan proposal grounded in the Founders' understanding that the republic depends on citizens who actively practice the habits of self-government. The full white paper — including a cost framework, proven program models, implementation roadmap, and outcome measurement system — follows this cover sheet.

I respectfully request that this be routed to the appropriate domestic policy or education policy staff for review. I am available by phone or email at any time.

Respectfully submitted,

Gina Aulabaugh
